City Council Meets Tonight

The city council will hold its regular monthly meeting tonight at 7.30 o'clock. The Finance and the Publie Works committee will have reports, but there will be none from the Public Welfare committee. The meeting promises to be a short one. The Finance committee's report will include recommendations relative to stree's to be paved under the general programme of improvements provided for in the bond election. In iddition to the streets listed at the time of the bond election there are others to be improved, the cost of this work to come out of the general fund. There are 20 streets in all in the programme proposed. If the council acts favorably on the recomnendations, the city engineer will be n a position to advertise for bids on the work and will thus be enabled to make an early start on the street work just as soon as the weather An ordinance will be introduced tofight permitting automobile owners to park automobiles to park automobiles

Yawns Stifled as Social Season Reaches Peak

tigue Point in the Gaiety Whirl of Four Months.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9 .- Lords and ladies of the capital's mansions are encountering difficulties in their efforts to suppress judicious yawns, born of fatigue, in the wake of the most strenuous social season Washington has ever known.

Four months' high temperature social fever has now developed a sudcase of social doldrums. Not the round of functions has lessened perceptibly, but that the func-tions themselves fail to function with their former fund of finesse. Milady trips behind the palm plant and hidden by its fronds gives way to a titan yawn and then hastens back to her guests, few nothing that her winsome smile is more histrionic than

The mer, poor fellows, have risen to noble heights in their endeavors to "see this thing through," and they are to be found night after night at luncheon and tea and tete-a-tete in seemingly endless succession living up to their vows, chatting with demure mademoiselles or with the elderly matrons who grace the picturesque assemblages that hold forth by, legation, delegation and in the and tomorrow. While no Parisian nomes of the elite.

None had thought the conference on Limitation of Armaments would ast so long. None had thought their healthy stocks of cellar goods would be called upon to last so long. And thus those more generous hosts dispensed of their liquid treasure long before the round of gayeties had come to an end. There is no longer the attraction at their receptions that there was wont to be in the days be-fore New Year loomed. They have been socially shelved, and in their places now entertain the lords and adies who dealt out their exhiliarat ing beverages frugally.

The tedium that has settled itself lown upon Washington is being overidden with characteristic American esourcefulness. American ladies ho are called upon to entertain foreign dignitaries and their wives on occasion after occasion do so with hat winning air and pleasantry that Europeans marvel upon. Though the creations or smart New York styles "air" may be more or less dramatic it is nevertheless never allowed to waver, and the forcign ladies and gentlemen can detect no figw in the performance that nightly is staged in Washington. The whole situation has been reduced to a telepathic understanding, and as a consequence callity around which the story was treeping into that merciless estate. The village school marm, after school hours, with her own hands, the aristocracy.

Perceiving folk are quick to under-fashioned the unique little "party" boudoir to the master in his studyis, "My dear, when do you suppose our guests will decide to go home?"

Nobility never before graced the national capital as it has charmed it these past four months. Princes and princesses, titled statesmen, elegant ladies, distinguished delegates, ambassadors and ministers frequent the city and lend added color to its grant ed charm. Hostesses and aspiring hostesses were not slow to take advantage of the occasion. Matrons have view with one another to entertain the debonair gentlemen and their dainty escorts. Engravers are still deing a rushing business. Leading caravansaries have not enjoyed a quiet evening since November 11, their ballrooms and diningrooms having been dated up for weeks in advance. Every delegate entertained first at luncheon, then at dinner and then at formal evenings each of the other delegations, then each of the delegates individually, and then on down through the entire dip omatic corps. The senators had their turn, too, and uresided over countless functions. Prince and Princess Bibesco, Princess Cantacuzene, Prince and Princess cess Lubormirski, Prince and Princess Andrea Boncompagni, Baroness de Cartier de Marchienne. Lord and Lady Lee of Fareham. Count and Countess Szechenyi were and still re-main the honored guests at an endess chain of gay affairs.

Other ladies whose names figure in the daily (now tising) round of and of France. Senora de Riano of social functions are: Mme. Jusser-Spain. Senora de Mathieu of Chite. Mme. Le Breton of Argentina, Mrs. Robert Cansing, Senora Augusto Cochrane de Alencar of Brazil, Lady Geddes, Viscountess d'Alta of Portu-gal. Mmc. Bryn of Norway, Mmc. Constantin Brun of Denmark, Senora de Elizalde of Ecuador, Mme. do Cospedes of Cuba, Miss Dominici of Venezuela, Senora J. Antonio Lopez Gutierrez of Honduras, Mme. Groutch of Jugo-Slovakia, Mme. Varela of Uruguay, Mme. Peter of Switzerland. Senota de Beeche of Costa Rica, Senora de Joubert of the Dominican Republic, Senora de Blanchi of Guatemala, Mmc. Stepanek, of Czecho-Slovak.ai Mme. Blanchet of Haiti. Mme. Sze of China. Mme. Wallenberg of Sweden. Mme. Chamorro of Nicaraugua. Senora de Ballivian, of Ruigaria. Mme. Mirza Husseln Khan Ali, of Persia. Mme. L. Astrom of Finland. Senorita Lefevre of Panama. Minie. Phra Sanpakitch of Slam, Senors Carlos Uribe, Jr., of Colombia, Mme W. H. de Beaufort of the Netherlands. Miss Laura Harding, Mrs. J. liorace Harding, cousins of the president: Mrs. T. Coleman Dupont, Mrs. John W Weeks, Mrs. Edwin T. Denbr. Mrs. Charles Evans Hughes, Mrs. Ira Nelson Morris, Mrs. Nicholas Longworth (Alice Roosevelt.) Mrs. Elihu Root and the Marshall Fields and hosts of others.

"In our studies, which have comprised in all some fifty cases, the resuits have been uniformly consistent. We feel justified in saying very definitely that cod liver oil brings about a change in the bones which, if the diet is not too faulty, amounts to complete cure. The change is not noticeable at ance, but is readily demonstrable in almost all cases by the end of a month. "In two or three months so much nfiltration of salts has taken place hat the extrimities of the bones, except for deformities, are practically

Borough Opposes U.S. in Prosecuting Moonshiners

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Feb. 9.— The borough of Kingston is preparing to engage in active competition with Uncle Sam in the collection of fines levied on bootleggers, owners of stills cuting makers of moonshine and other concoctions. Burgess Murray Turpin announced today that it is the plan to have the borough treasury receive fines collected in still cases, instead of allowing the money to go to the United States treasury. Another feature is that all such cases will be tried before the burgess instead of before United States commissioners. oughs in Luzerne county are likely to follow the lead set by Kingston, and this will mean that the revenues of Uncle Sam will dwindle considerably in future. Another possible feature is competition between federal and hor-

BETTING DEMORALIZING TO AMATEUR ATHLETICS

CHICAGO, Feb. 9 .- Telling how he had turned down an offer of $1,000 to become a professional while attending Yale University, Alonzo A. Stagg, University of Chicago athletic director, in an address today blamed betting for the inroad of professionalism in college athletics and declared that these inroads were the most demoralizing thing in the world of Nothing is more demoralizing than the feeling how much is in it for me?" Mr. Stagg said in addressing a city mental difference between the professional and the amateur and the diference starts at an early age. and the stimulus changes as the boy grows older to that of emulation, of being a real part in a social group; Then as he grows still older, he becomes a part of more organized groups and college athletics is one of these developments."
